Summary of Teacher Pay in the Appropriations Bill

for Teachers

On January 22, 2021, during the 1st Extraordinary Session of the 112th General Assembly, the Tennessee General Assembly passed an Appropriations Bill (SB7009/HB7020), which included critical pay increases for Tennessee teachers during an unprecedented school year impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Your work as an educator is critical for the success and safety of our students. Throughout these unprecedented times, Tennessee teachers, like yourself, continue to rise to the occasion to meet the needs of all students and provide them with a quality education.

We all know educators are critical for the success and safety of students. Throughout these unprecedented times, Tennessee teachers continue to rise to the occasion to meet the needs of all students and provide them with a quality education. Educators are working especially hard through the pandemic to adapt to new challenges, dynamics, and instructional environments.

By passing this appropriations bill recommended by Governor Lee, the General Assembly appropriated funding intended to go towards teacher bonuses or raises this school year. It will be up to each school district to decide how this increased funding is dispersed for district instructional staff. The exact amount of money available for educator salaries and/or bonuses has been sent to districts and will be distributed at their discretion.

In addition to this one-time increase, Governor Lee has already committed to proposing a significant recurring increase in the instructional component of the BEP to begin next fiscal year. This investment will provide significant funding to support districts as they provide instructional salary increases for teachers.
